I have had Scarlett for two semesters as a history TA. In both classes Scarlett has always been prepared, engaging and personable. She is an exceptional TA that has always provided detailed historical narratives and perspectives some of which are never covered in class. She compliments the course content with her own research and knowledge. I can personally remember requesting to view the different topics we had covered throughout HST 210 in chronological order during a discussion section. Scarlett stopped the lesson plan and took 5 minutes to explain how the events were organized on a timeline. Scarlett is also attentive to the minor details that make being a student in her discussion section enjoyable. Whether it is creative jeopardy review games or providing detailed feedback on papers, Scarlett accommodates students with the skills and resources they need to succeed.
